

FELLOWSHIP IN THE OFFICE OF THE PROVOST
Call for Applications

The Office of the Executive Vice President and Provost invites any interested tenured or clinical faculty members of The University of Iowa to apply for two available fellowships.

Fellows will serve for one to three semesters. They will work closely with the Provost, Vice Provost, and/or Associate Provosts on projects identified at the time of appointment. The fellowship will replace an appropriate portion of the faculty member's normal teaching or clinical responsibilities. These fellowships are intended as development opportunities for faculty members to explore administrative roles and to acquire skills and knowledge that will better prepare them to serve in academic administration in the future. Fellows will attend meetings of the Provost's senior staff, the Council of Deans, and other governance groups.

Faculty members with interests in any of the following areas are particularly encouraged to apply:

- Graduate education and the research enterprise
- Economic development
- Cross-disciplinary collaborations
- Undergraduate educational experience
- Responsible alcohol use by undergraduates
- Post-flood rebuilding of the university
- Sustainability
- Diversity and internationalization
- Budgeting and process improvements
- Information technology
- Continuing education, distance education, and extension

Application process and timeline:

Applicants are requested to submit a letter describing their interests in the fellowship, a current vita, and two letters of reference (one from their DEO and one from a colleague). Review of applications will begin October 1 and continue until appointments are made. Fellowships will begin January 1, 2009, or at a mutually agreed-upon date. Please send application materials in care of Tom Rocklin, Vice Provost, Office of the Provost, 111 Jessup Hall.

Faculty members should feel free to contact anyone in the Office of the Provost if they have questions or wish further information. Thank you.
