Program: Dance M.F.A.
Rating: Good

The MFA program in Dance offers comprehensive training in performance, choreography, and theoretical studies. Students select either a performance or a choreography track. Dance displays a selective applicant pool but not diverse from an underrepresented minority perspective. Admissions often stem from professionals returning to the graduate program which adds strength to the program. The program receives adequate funding for an MFA program. Many details from the narrative report are unclear, but TTD, completion and placement seem adequate. Program size based on funding and “required” cohorts for delivering performances seems appropriate. The narrative demonstrates good self-awareness, but the action plan is vague and without detail.
