Task Force on Graduate Education: Selective Excellence

Program Ratings and Rationale

Program: Film and Video Production M.F.A. Program
Rating: Good

The Film and Video Production MFA track develops the student's ability to produce effective artistic work in Film and Video. MFA candidates receive partial support, typically in the form of a 1/3-time TA position. Students in the MFA program typically complete their degrees in 3 years. The Film and Video Production MFA program has the potential to thrive, but considering the resources likely to be invested in the future, merger with a related area is recommended.
